

In Grand Rapids we are in dire need of better media coverage of local public affairs and more opportunities for minority voices and issues to be heard. The present radio stations in this market have no interest in serving these needs simply because there is little profit in it. Even the local NPR station airs little to no news of substance. I am in favor of adding LPFM stations to increase local coverage of public affairs.